Females	2.35	2.10	1.85	1.48	1.23	pricing
Males	2.45	2.25	1.90	1.69	1.60

Coccidiosis Vaccine: .20 per chick only offering this option with the Heavy White Cornish Cross chicks when shipping by themselves.

High Yield Broad Breasted Cornish Cross breed that makes great fryers (broilers) and roasters because of the weights that can be achieved. This breed has an excellent feed conversion, livability, strong legs, and a maximum white meat yield with a plump full confirmation. At 6 to 8 weeks of age processed weights of 4 ½ to 6 lbs. can be obtained. Higher weights can be obtained depending on the final grow out duration. With using a well-managed care and feeding program, customers have achieved processed weights of 10 to 14 lb. roasters and capons within 10 to 14 weeks. This breed is also use for Cornish-Poussins (French for young chicken) 28 to 31 days will yield a processed 1 to 1 ¼ lb. bird; 32 to 38 days 1 ½ to 2 lb. bird

Wrapped Heavy Cornish
 Processed 5.25 lbs. 6-8 wks.

ALTERNATIVE BROILERS

Colored Meat Birds & Color Range Breeds

Performance traits include increased foraging activity, a greater resistance to disease, livability, strong legs, and excellent feed conversion. All alternative breeds will have a longer breast bone, legs (drumstick), and wing span. They will also have a darker yellow fat compared to the pale yellow fat of the fast growing breeds. What these birds will not have is that double breast meat and fast growth rate.

Not wrapped Colored Meat Bird
 Processed 4.50 lbs. 9-11 wks.

Wrapped Color Range Breed
 Red Bro
 Processed 4.50 lbs. 9-11 wks.

ALTERNATIVE BROILERS

Tuesday hatches shipped separately due to different hatching time and bio-security procedures in place for moving chicks from one facility to another.
All alternative broilers grow at a moderate rate and have a longer breast bone then the commercial white Cornish.

RED CORNISH Live weight 5.4 lbs. 9 wks.
 This is a reddish colored bird with some having barred feathering. This breed has a more proportioned white to dark meat yield. Slightly smaller than the Royal Red

ROYAL RED Live weight 5.75 lbs. 9 wks.
 Males only (St Run available later in year)
 Slightly larger breast than Red Cornish

GRAY MIX/KOSHER KING
 Gray birds resembling Barred Rocks, some will have a mixed silver and red feathering layered on the gray feathering. Yellow shanks.
 Live weight 5.4 - 5.75 lbs. 9 wks.

SLOW GROW WHITE
 A white bird with 10% red or brownish flecks. Being crossed with a commercial broiler and slow grow broiler gives it a heavier weight then other alternatives in this grouping. But still the commercial Cornish will give a higher meat yield.
 Live weights 5.95 lbs. 8 wks.

ASSORTED hatchery choice
 Can consist of either Red, Gray, Multi Striped/barrred depending on which breeds are sent with order.
 Live weight 5.4 - 5.75 lbs. 9 wks.

COLOR RANGER BREEDS

Tuesday hatches shipped separately due to different hatching time and bio-security procedures in place for moving chicks from one facility to another.

RED BRO
 Red or tri-color feathered birds that grow at a moderate rate.
 Live weights 5 - 6 lbs. in 9 wks.
 Yellow shank, beak, & skin.

GREY MIX
 Grey barring with some tri-color feathering no solid colors. Growth rate same as Red Bro birds.

RED RANGER (different breeding)
 Two wks. Slower than the Red Bro. This red broiler cross is more of a heritage/heavy muscle body frame & long keel bone. Red feathered, yellow shanks & beak with a large red comb. Growth rate 11-13 wks.

CAPONS

What is a Capon? Capons are considered to be the ultimate choice in poultry meats. A delicacy that's truly valued by chefs for it's a juicy, tender, and succulent flavor. Capons will also bring a higher market value. A capon is a male chicken that has been surgically de-sexed at an early age. After being caponized the chicken (capon) becomes quiet and docile, which slows down the muscling process making dark and white meat muscles soft (not tough or stringy). This readily makes the bird plump evenly giving it the distinguished juicy and tender flavorful meat qualities. Depending on feeding program. A capon will mature in 9 to 12 weeks, weighing 9 to 13 pounds dressed weight. *WE NO LONGER MAIL OUT CAPONS OR START THEM CUSTOM CAPONIZING AVAILABLE

CARE OF BABY POULTRY: CHICKENS, DUCKS, GEESE and GUINEAS

ARRIVAL DATE be sure to have some flexible time to pick up your poultry at the post office, sometimes they do not arrive when expected due to reasons we cannot control such as hatching and shipping delays.

WATCH THE BEHAVIOR to determine if it's warm enough. When cold they will be loud and huddle close together, if comfortable they will be reasonably quiet and will be eating, drinking or sleeping.

BEDDING use 2 to 4 inches of dry litter, such as pine wood shavings, chopped straw or other appropriate bedding, do not use newspaper or other slick material, this can cause legs to slip out from underneath them and cause serious leg problems. Do not use bedding such as cedar chips, treated shavings, large thick wood chips or dusty sawdust.

FIRST DAY INSTRUCTIONS have a clean draft free pen with fresh water and new feed. When baby poultry arrives make sure they drink water then give them feed. Guinea Keets need to have room temperature water upon arrival and smash their feed to be smaller for the first couple days. A one foot high chick guard should be used around chicks brooding area to keep them near the heat source and stop any drafts, it can be taken away after 10 days.

TEMPERATURE for the first week at chick height should be 90-95 degrees. Decrease the temperature 5 degrees per week until temperature of 65 is reached. Turkeys and pheasants start 5 degrees higher. A brooder lamp (heat bulb) 4 bulb, 250-watt is sufficient for 300 chicks; lesser amounts can be brooded with a single lamp.

FEED & WATER Use a good starter feed, (local feed dealer) then switch to a grower feed. Two 1-gallon waters and two 24-inch feeders per 100 chicks when they are little and then use larger waters and feed containers as they get older. When weather permits and the young poultry are old enough you can let them outside. Granite grit helps their digestive system for meat birds, calcium grit for layers when ready to lay eggs.

Special care of baby ducks & geese

Feed: Use a well-balanced Non-Medicated Feed, medicated Chick/turkey feed will kill goslings & ducklings (ask your feed dealer what's available) starter crumbs for 3-4 weeks, then grower pellets. Water fowl also like green grass, start them slowly on grass don't let them over do it.

Health: Access to drinking water at all time, and since they weren't hatched by their mother they don't have her protective oil on their down to repel water and can only swim for short periods of time until they start to sink. They do not get their feathers until they are 4 or 5 weeks old, meaning they shouldn't be left outside in the cold or rainy weather.

OUR GUARANTEE

We guarantee poultry to arrive alive and in good condition. If for some reason they do not, replacements will be made, credit or refund. 90% accurate true to sex on sexing of the birds.

AT NO TIME WILL OUR GUARANTEE EXCEED THE ORIGINAL PURCHASE PRICE.

It is important to follow care and brooding instructions closely to insure getting birds off to a good start.

Marek's Disease is caused by a virus which can lead to progressive paralysis, organ failure and death. There is no treatment for infected birds, though vaccination can be given prior to shipping to defend against this disease. Comments on shipping: We will try to fill order by dates wanted but sometimes we may have to move your ship day due to unexpected circumstances. If this happens you will be notified.

-  Contact with live poultry (chicks, chickens, ducklings, ducks, goslings, geese and turkeys) can be a source of human Salmonella infections.
-  Salmonella germs are shed in their droppings and can easily contaminate their bodies and anything in areas where birds live and roam.
-  Chicks, ducklings, and other poultry can carry Salmonella germs and still appear healthy and clean.
-  Salmonella germs can cause a diarrheal illness in people that can be mild, severe, or even life threatening.

SAFE HANDLING INSTRUCTONS:

It is important to care for your poultry, but you must also protect yourself from potentially harmful micro-organisms, germs (including salmonella) and bacteria by direct contact with poultry and livestock.

- *DO supervise children when handling poultry and ensure hand washing after contact.
- *DO carefully and thoroughly wash your hands with soap and hot water after handling poultry and anything in the area where they live and roam (if soap and water are not available use hand sanitizer).
- *DO NOT nuzzle, snuggle or kiss your livestock or poultry.
- *KEEP poultry outside, and especially out of areas where food and drink is prepared, served or stored. Also keep out of bathrooms.
- *DO NOT let children less than 5 year of age, elderly and people with weakened immune systems handle or touch livestock including poultry.
